COLUMBIA, S. C., May 7, 1851. S.
GENTLEMES: Your kind invitation to be preit at a dinner to be given "in honor of your tinguished fellow-citizen, Gen. Quitman, and support of Southern rights," has just been olved. I beg leave to assure you, in no unaning language of compliment, that both as objects meet a responsive echo in my ast. To any one who admires purity and tiness of character—a devoted patriotism, la valor which has been illustrated on many rell-fought field, the name of John A. Quitin saust ever be dear. The manifest injustice the bas been done in tearing him from the of magistracy of his State, on pretended rges, and the clow given to State sovereignty that act, must create a feeling of deep innation in the heart of every one who is an ocate of justice, and who has one single pulmercy of an unscriptions majority, whose only object is to trample them under foot—who, in addition to a course of policy which must result in the destruction of our institutions and devolate our homes, have, with a high-handed arrogance, proclaimed, that we are unworthy to occupy one inch of that wast territory, won, I occupy one inch of that vast territory, won, I will not say in part, but principally, by our own blood and treasure. The distinguished guest, whom you have assembled to honor, carved out for himself a hero's name upon the bloody fields where that territory was acquired—and he can testify whether, in that day of trial, the Palmetto regiment did its duty. Shoulder to shoulder the soldiers of our respective States stood, while winning a world of territory for our common country, and while enacting accurate 6. mon country, and while enacting scenes to fill the brightest pages of her history, and shoulder to shoulder, I trust. they will again be ready to stand in asserting their rights, and in vindicating their honor.

It being out of my power to leave the State during my term of office, I regret that I will not be able to meet you—but be assured that though I am absent in person, my heart is with you in the objects for which you are assembled.

With distinguished consideration, your most obedient servant,

J. H. MEANS.

We have been favored with the following translation of a letter to a gentleman in this city: HAVANA, May 22, 1851.

HAVANA, May 22. 1851.

MY DEAR Sin:—The excitement which prevails among all the inhabitants of this island begars description, and the government is taking suitable measures to prevent the impending blow. Yesterday the Captain General Concha, reviewed the batallion, consisting of a thousand men, all of them dressed in gray coats, blue pants, straw hats, knapsacks, tin cans, and a pair of shoes attached to the knapsacks, as for a field fight.

The nine individuals arrested a few days back will be transported under a close guard to old Spain, except two, who are confined in consequence of sickness to the hospital of the Fort. We are daily expecting the order for new contributions, which have been announced; and for which purpose they have commenced making a minute census. Thus they go ou sucking our life-blood away, and they will continue until the last drop is gone.

Limerich has been appointed governor af Puerto Principe, and is very much exasperated in consequence of not having found out the secret press kept by the Patriots. An amusing eircum-tance occured, one evening lately, which gives a pretty good idea of the self importance of this Limerich, and at the same time shows the estimation in which he is held by the people.

One night some young gentlemen having been gathered together in the public square, the governor passed them on horseback. Finding that they did not salute him by taking off their hats to him, he turned back in a great rage and reproached them in a very rude, ungentle manner; when one of them stepped forward, stating they had no intention of offending him, but that in the darkness of the night they did not know him. This appeased His Excellency, and he rode away. The following day, when the governor went to his desk, he found, among some other papers, a printed sheet requesting him, when he rode about the streets, to have the captain of the garrison out before him with a trumpet to announce that the master was about to pass by, in order that all might be prepared to take off their hats, and do homage to his excellency; also that he should never find out the secret press is 3,553. There were about 15,000 votes. upon which the printing was done, and as he had pledged himself "that he would find it out before many days, or burn his sash," that the sooner he committed the sash to the flames the Your friend, Popularity of Secession in Alabama. The Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer, submission paper, in commenting upon the condition of affairs in Alabama, recently put forth the following:

"Alabama, like Virgina, is acting most strenmously in favor of Union. The Register and the Advertiser have come out in Mobile in favor of Union. The Register is a Democratic paper - the Advertiser is a strong Whig journal.

The question of secession is represented in the columns of the Tribune, and is withering under the mighty lash of Meek in the Register and Langdon in the Advertiser. In less than three months, secession will not have a spot to rest on but the frog swamps and rice marshes of

In reply to the above, the Herald and Tribune rs the following rebuke.

"If this man had been writing in China his facts could not have been more erroneous. The cause of "Southern rights," notwithstanding the efforts of the Register and Advertiser, is stronger now than ever, and instead of our "withering" under it, (if that be one of the ideas that the Enquirer wishes to convey) we may state that we were never so prosperous. We have a circulation and an advertising patronage larger than either of our neighbors, and, what is still more, they are still growing. If the Enquirer's account of matters in Georgia be not more accurate than that which it gives of respect of its readers.

"After the above was written, we received from the postmaster of this city, the following note, in reply to a statement of our circulation, handed in when application was made for pub-lishing the list of letters:

"POST OFFICE, Mobile, May 15.

"Post Office, Mobile, May 15.

Editors of Herald and Tribune:—Gentlemen —Your paper is entitled to the printing of the list of letters in this office, &c."

The fling at South Carolina, contained in the paragraph of the Enquirer, in contempt, is nothing more than would be expected from such a source. The people of this State ask no quarters from the ranks of those who tamely submit to tyranny. Though she may encounter the sneers of the world, alone will she stem the storm in defence of liberty, preferring death to abject submission. If we may judge from the signs of the times, however, South Carolina will not be long in an isolated condition. The fires of liberty are kindling around her, and that the flame will apread throughout the South is now strongly indicated by the movements in both Georgis and Alabama, the sneers of the Enquirer to the contrary.

E. M. Perrin, as commissioner on the part of France, and R. C. Wyllie, as Secretary of Foreign Affairs, on the part of the King of the Island, were the negotiators of the treaty. As the commissioner on the part of France was not instructed as to all the points in dispute between the two powers, this temporary arrangment has been entered into to restore commercial and amicable international relations until the French commissioner receives advices from his government.

These difficulties have grown out of a misunderstanding between the two governments as

To be published in Washington, under the sanction of the Washington National Monument Society.

The MONUMENT is intended to be a literary, agricultural, and miscellaneous paper. It will contain select portions of the literature of the day—the best that can be found in American and European publications: interesting scientific articles.

the best that can be found in American and Euro-pean publications; interesting scientific articles, embracing mechanics; foreign and domestic news; a synopsis of the proceedings of Congress, and every thing that such a journal might be expected to contain, with the exception of party politics, which will be at all times most rigorously exand without reserve, to the purpose indicated The aid, therefore, of all who are willing to contribute to so patriotic an object, and one so entirely national, is earnestly requested. By subscribing to the MONUMENT, a valuable journal at a low price may be obtained, while it will be doing something, at the same time, towards completing that majestic memorial of the Nation's gratitude.

The board of managers recommend Mr. Pickett, formerly Fourth Auditor of the Treasury and Charge d'Affaires to Peru, who proposes to edit and publish the Monument journal, as one well qualified to perform the duties of editor, and to conduct the paper, faithfully, and satisfactor'ly to the subscribers. They assure their fellow-citizens that this enterprise is not a speculation got up for individual emolument. Mr. Pickett will make the experiment with his own means and at his own risk, and, if successful, he will receive nothing more, and he asks nothing more, than a very moderate compensation for his services. Not one dollar, therefore, of the direct subscription to the erection of the Monument will be, in any event, applied to the support of the paper, nor the society in any manner held pecuniary responsible.

the society in any manner held pecuniary responsible.

To give the public an idea of what may be done with the journal it is proposed to publish, it may be stated that a list of fifty thousand paying subscribers, at two dollars each, will yield an annual net profit of from fifty to sixty thousand dollars.

The post masters, and secretaries of all organized bodies throughout the Union, are respectfully requested to act as agents in obtaining subscriptions for this journal, thus aiding the great object of our exertions.

As all editors and publishers, on account of the object for which the Monument newspaper will be established, must wish it to succeed, it is hoped that they will contribute to its success by publishing this prospectus.
